Outline your relevant raiding experience, including the guilds you were in previously and why you left them. ***

I recently came out of retirement to start playing WOW again. Currently am raiding w/ Anime Thighs on Arthas. I am 4/9 Mythic for BoD.

I am very grateful for my time with this guild. I dinged 120 February 2nd and was able to jump into heroics one week later, and Mythics the following. Currently the roster is Ret Paladin strong with 3. We all get to play, so it is a good mess and we all get along.

I am looking to raid on the weekends as it is better for my schedule. Your group have strong progression for a 2 night guild.

Previously when I raided in MOP I raided at a fairly high level with Post Mortem.

Tier 15 & 16 I raided with Post Mortem US #31 (9 hour raid week)

https://www.wowprogress.com/guild/us/kilrogg/Post+Mortem/rating.tier16\_25

The reason I left was me having a new work schedule and moving to a different time zone. They were a late night guild, and I could not afford to not sleep.

I also played with Promethean US #7 Tier 15 (30 hour raid week)

https://www.wowprogress.com/guild/us/stormreaver/Promethean/rating.tier16\_25

Going into Tier 16 they were not going to go with a Paladin and I wanted a guild where I could progress and actively play.

I learned a lot from high end raiding, and the dedication and knowledge you have to put into each fight.

Why do you want to join Potent? What sets you apart from other players? *

Feel free to brag as much as you want. If you're good at something, tell us.

Your raid hours were great for my schedule. I enjoy raiding at a higher level and passed upon your progression, it is not just about smashing keyboards.

My previous GM was a Doctor and we would write weekly reports on our performance. Evaluating logs and dissecting every encounter became as simple as knowing the back of your hand.

We had game plans, and at times DPS, was not a show of strength or a "bottom line" for success. Mechanics is important. I don't care about padding during progression, I care about hard swaps, mechanics and providing an LOH, or BOP or any other utility my toon provides to down an encounter.

The analytical side that has developed over years will benefit the group, as it is more than just pushing buttons. I still have friends that play and are raid leads and/or officers with other progression oriented guilds.

How did you hear about Potent? *

I had researched guilds on WoWProgress.com

Tell us a little about yourself. *

My name is Sean Patrick Amazing, I define success and exude greatness daily. I work hard in Real Life and in-game. I love the game, I've grinded hard ever since I put my hand on a gaming mouse, I view raiding as a job, and you have to put work in to be successful, but also have fun. I very competitive with myself to push myself, and be the best raider I can.

I took 4 1/2 years off. Within the month I have grinded AP to hit 41, iLVL to 410 and am currently 4/9 Mythic

I will say that my first week of logs, were not mechanically strong. I knew the fights, watching progression of Method, Wildcard Gaming, Future. Stepping into Heroics and then Mythics, I would say that I did not have the gear and did not follow mechanics.

The second week, I didn't worry about damage. I worried about survivability and not dying to dumb shit.

My eyes are now trained to see the whole screen and my footwork has greatly improved.

I pride myself on being a quality individual, and that transcends into my interactions with guild members.

I look forward to the opportunity for an interview and a trial to be part of your guild.

You guys are trending upwards and that shows a stable environment.
