Will start by saying that I started playing ago around August 2017 if I recall correctly. I come from a professional career in both starcraft 2 and Dota 2. At the time I was honestly done with Dota 2 and decided to look for a new game. A mate of mine showed me wow and I decided to give it a try. Started extremely casual due to learning the game around mid ToS, my warlock was actually my first toon but then switch to DH which I got AOTC KJ by pugging. By Antorus it was the same story and by the time I got CE I decided to find a guild. I joined a casual guild that did heroic and was there for a couple of weeks but I got very bored of DH and decided to go back to lock. Eventually with My lock after a couple of week of clearing heroic I decided that it wasn't enough, it was just too easy so I found a 6/11M guild and joined them. We killed all the way to Inmonar but we spent like 5 weeks on kin garoth, people just dying to random things, popping balls out of nowhere and not being really committed...so I decided to join some friends I met by pugging m+ in Sargeras, alliance. Ardent was my first real guild imo, we managed to get all the way to Aggrammar but due to a job schedule change I had to leave them and then join velocity, also in Sargeras.

With Velocity we downed Aggrammar and spent quite the time In argus. After around 500 pulls I was convinced that I could do better...people not being committed as myself, finding a guild as alliance was hard so I went to horde and found Disconnect In area52. They took me as a trial and got CE literally 2 weeks before CE ended lawl.

During Uldir was my time to show what I was truly made off and personally I think I did a pretty good job at Disconnect during progress. We managed to down Ghuun after some rough weeks without main healers and what not. For BoD I stayed in Disconnect until Jadefire progression, problem was that in January I got a new job as a systems manager so the schedule was rough 11 45 pm to 3 45 am Cst friday and saturday...since I need my saturday and Sunday mornings for things I cannot do during the week, sleep got rough so I decided to find a new home and I found Adapt. They took me and we managed to prog decently well all the way to Stormwall, and to be honest, Mekka wasn't that big of a wall for us during prog. Sadly some people didn't see it this way and decided to leave without notice leaving us with a very poor roster for mythic progression. We decided to give it one more week, this one, and see what we could come out with, but after not downing mekka it was decided that the guild would stop raiding this tier.

What resources do you use to keep up with your class? *

I am a regular in the Council discord in all channels since I play all specs and can adapt any spec to all fights. But in my personal experience the best way to learn is by either Watching streams of top end players like Sjele, to learn about the little tips and tricks, or, studying logs, which personally i love to do.

Why do you want to join Potent? What sets you apart from other players? *

Feel free to brag as much as you want. If you're good at something, tell us.

I want to join cause of multiple things. Your raid schedule is extremely good for me, your progress is very good, you seem to have a very focused set of players and I want find a place I can call home. In regards to what sets me outside of others is very simple, two things, consistency and commitment. Im not the kind of player that has a bad day, even tho your normal day was shit you have to think that there are other 19 people in the raid that as you, want to progress, want to kill bosses and most importantly want to finish the tier. In terms of commitment, I mentioned it early, I am a huge lore whore. I love going thro logs, mine, top players, top guilds and review what I did wrong, what can I change, what can i make better to improve my dps or even better, improve the strategy we might be using for a fight. As an example for a grammar I recommended to my guild that we stacked the fires on the last phase cause we werent doing it lawl.

How did you hear about Potent? *

Tell us a little about yourself. *

I am an Systems Enginieer manager, cant say I love it but I dont hate it either. Moestly in the security systems of the company I work for. I played football as a MLB for 7 years and was a weightlifter for a couple of years till my knees gave up.

Most Importantly...I want to point out something very importan, I am Mexican. I live In Mexico, and yes, very the question arises, I have a very good connection. If this is in any way a problem I appreciate reading the app but I had issues with racism in the past and not looking to go with that again.

I like to make good friendships in the guilds I join. Ardent, Disconnect and even in Adapt I can say I met good people, always got along very well with officers. I hope that if my app is accepted It can be the same way in Potent.
